Presentations:

- A presentation was given by Sunny Hall from The Crisis Center of Tampa Bay. The Crisis Center of Tampa Bay is a community partner of the Task Force and working closely with the mental health subcommittee to insure that clients are receiving trauma informed services. Sunny reminded Task Force members to dial 211 for a wide range of services. Basic services include suicide prevention, care coordination, follow-up and referrals. Veteran services are available. Other services provided include sexual assault exams and counseling. Services are provided in a linguistic and culturally appropriate manner. All services are available 24/7. The center has trauma informed care, voice and choice. One to five days is the typical response to non-urgent referrals and requests.

- A second presentation was given by the staff of Radiant Hands, led by Magda Selah. Radiant Hands has been partnering with the Task Force since October, 2015. As a nonprofit and locally funded program, Radiant Hands offers a wide range of services to over 100 refugee families with the goal of helping them become self-sufficient and integrated into the community. Radiant Hands focuses on assisting clients identifying as Muslim, but will help all refugees regardless of their faith affiliation. Radiant Hands staff work closely with the four local resettlement agencies to provide various services for clients. For example, they provide a “Welcome Basket” which includes prayer rugs, tea, and culturally appropriate hot meals, used furniture, linen, dishes, utensils, etc. all of which is donated from community members and given to new arrivals. Radiant Hands staff also provide job referrals and counseling services as needed and 3 months of paid phone service. Staff and volunteers speak a variety of languages including Arabic and Farsi. Additional services include providing training for women to get jobs who have never worked in their native countries and assistance with relocation to another state if necessary. Radiant Hands has a website at <http://www.radianthands.org/>

Refugee Services Update:

- Patti Grogan gave an update on refugee arrivals statewide—as of April 2016 a total of 24,925 have arrived to the state for an average of 5,000 arrivals per month. Ninety-five percent of these arrivals are from Cuba and many of them are joining family members already residing in Florida. Many

Cubans are crossing the border after going through Central America on a perilous and difficult journey. Refugee Services is focused on helping these new arrivals to find employment and 12,000 were placed in jobs last year. This year the employment numbers will be even higher. Other populations we expect to see in Florida this year include Congolese and some Syrians. Burmese resettlement has come to a close.

- Janet Blair and Doug Haskitt gave an update on this year's World Refugee Day event which will be held on June 17th at Pinellas Technical College in St. Petersburg, FL. This year's event will include a citizenship ceremony, awards for faculty and students of Pinellas County Schools and a screening of the film "Refugees: Roads to Success."
- Janet also announced that the Tampa Welcoming Week event will be held on Saturday, September 17th at the University of South Florida and is being sponsored by the Honors College and Pacific Interpreters. This second annual event will include a cultural festival and a planning committee is already hard at work to make this year's event even more successful than last year. Please see Janet if you want to join this committee.
